

Watercolor Art Starter Prints Idea Guide

Watercolor Art Starter Prints have been developed to allow people to experience the fun of watercolor painting without the intimidation that a blank sheet of paper can cause. We've designed a set of pictures with broad appeal and printed them lightly in soft gray ink (to look like a pencil sketch drawing), on genuine watercolor paper. Using any of a variety of painting supplies (suggested below) it's easy to create real watercolor paintings by using the printed image as a guide. The finished paintings are perfect to frame and enjoy or give as a gift!

WE SUGGEST COMPLETING THESE WATERCOLOR PAINTINGS USING ANY OF THE FOLLOWING:

Watercolor Paints, Water-Based Markers, Watercolor Colored Pencils, or Watercolor Crayons. Fine Line Permanent Markers are perfect for adding finishing details to the painting after it has dried.

YOU WILL ALSO NEED: Cups of Water, Paint Brushes, and Paper Towels. It is best to paint on a flat surface to avoid paint drips.

1. Gather all of your supplies before starting to paint.
2. Using the printed lines as a guide, begin adding washes of color over the design areas with watercolors, watercolor pencils or even water-based markers. Then brush over the painted areas with water to blend colors and create a soft washed look. Remember, in watercolor painting, it is perfectly fine – even encouraged - to paint “outside the lines”, the faint gray lines are merely there to add subtle definition to the artwork.
3. Optional: When you are finished adding color and the painting is dry, you can add detail by tracing over the light gray lines using permanent markers or pencils.

Experiment and have fun with different coloring supplies – you can even combine multiple painting mediums to create unique effects. Each painting will be a personal, one-of-a-kind work of art!
